

Korean Meteorological Society

Purpose and Objective

The Korean Meteorological Society promotes the advance of atmospheric and climate sciences, encourages the active exchange of information and technologies in nationwide and worldwide, fosters our next generation experts, and enhances the technology transfer to the public and private sectors.

Acronym: KMS

Country or Region: Republic of Korea (a.k.a. South Korea)

Established Since: December 19, 1963

Number of Members: 3817 (as of August 2024)

Website: /www.komes.or.kr

Contact:

Mailing Address:

1510 Renaissance Tower Bldg., 14, Mallijae-ro, Mapo-gu, Seoul 04195, Korea

Telephone: (+)82-2-835-1619, Fax: (+82)-2-849-1541, E-mail: komes@komes.or.kr

Dr. June-Yi Lee

Pusan National University

2 Busandaehak-ro 63 beon-gil, Geumjeong-gu, Busan 4624, South Korea

Telephone: (+)82-51-510-2217, Fax: (+82)-51-510-7445, E-mail: juneyi@pusan.ac.kr

Publications:

1) Asia-Pacific Journal of Atmospheric Sciences - SCI(E) Journal, Fully in English, Issued Quarterly

2023 Impact Factor = 2.2

2) Atmosphere - Non-SCI, Written in Korean, Issued Quarterly

3) e-newsletter - Online News, Written in Korean, Bimonthly

Other Society Information:

- Presidential Election voted by Member Representatives, Current President: Dr.Sun-Ki Park (Jan. 2024– Dec 2025)
- Twice a year conference meeting held one in spring and the other in fall (General Assembly)
- A member society of the Asian Conference on Meteorology (ACM) on Meteorology held biennially Mobile Version